At Lyndon State College . . .

. . . it is our purpose to help each student develop an awareness, knowledge, and appreciation of those great traditions and responsibilities to which he is heir. We seek to enable each student to develop personally and to think critically and creatively in a democratic environment. We believe that this should result in a more mature, responsible, and effective person, a credit to this college and to the society in which he takes his place.

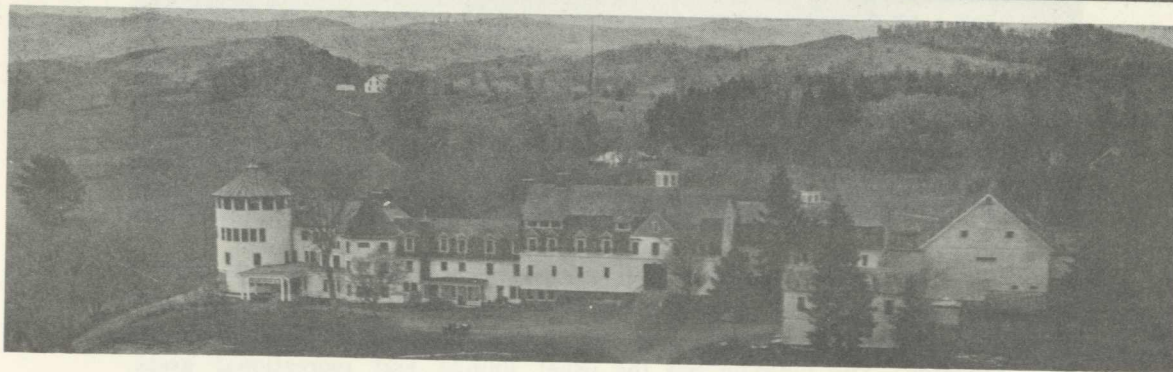

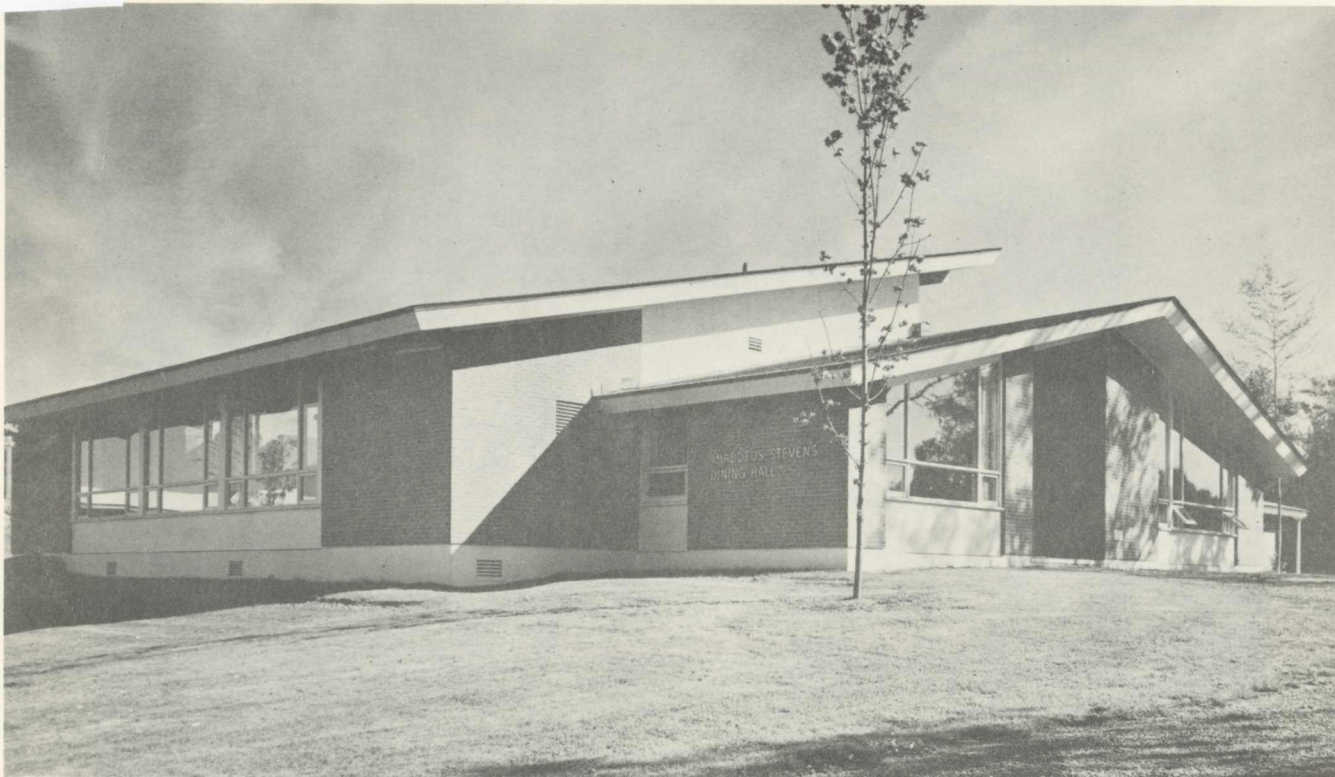

1964

Vail Hall, the administrative center of the college, was formerly the mansion of Theodore N. Vail, built at the turn of the century by the first president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. It forms a complex containing faculty and administrative buildings, a small auditorium, student center facilities, and a gymnasium.

1966

The Thaddeus Stevens Dining Hall was completed in 1965 and now seats 250 students at a time. Its kitchens are designed to prepare meals for 1000 and the dining areas will be expanded as enrollment increases.

Eleazar Wheelock Residence Hall is now the women's dormitory, with a maximum capacity of 140. It was completed in 1965-66. Rooms are arranged in eight- to ten-student suites which include four sleeping rooms, living room, and toilet facilities. The building has the usual lounge and recreational areas, laundry facilities, etc.

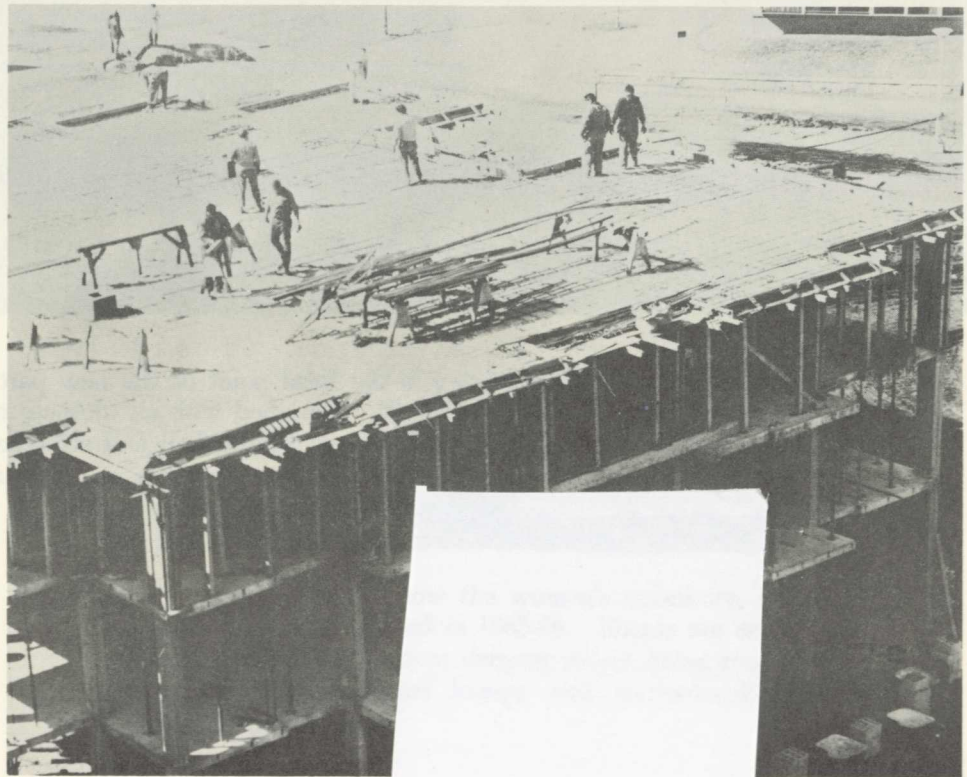

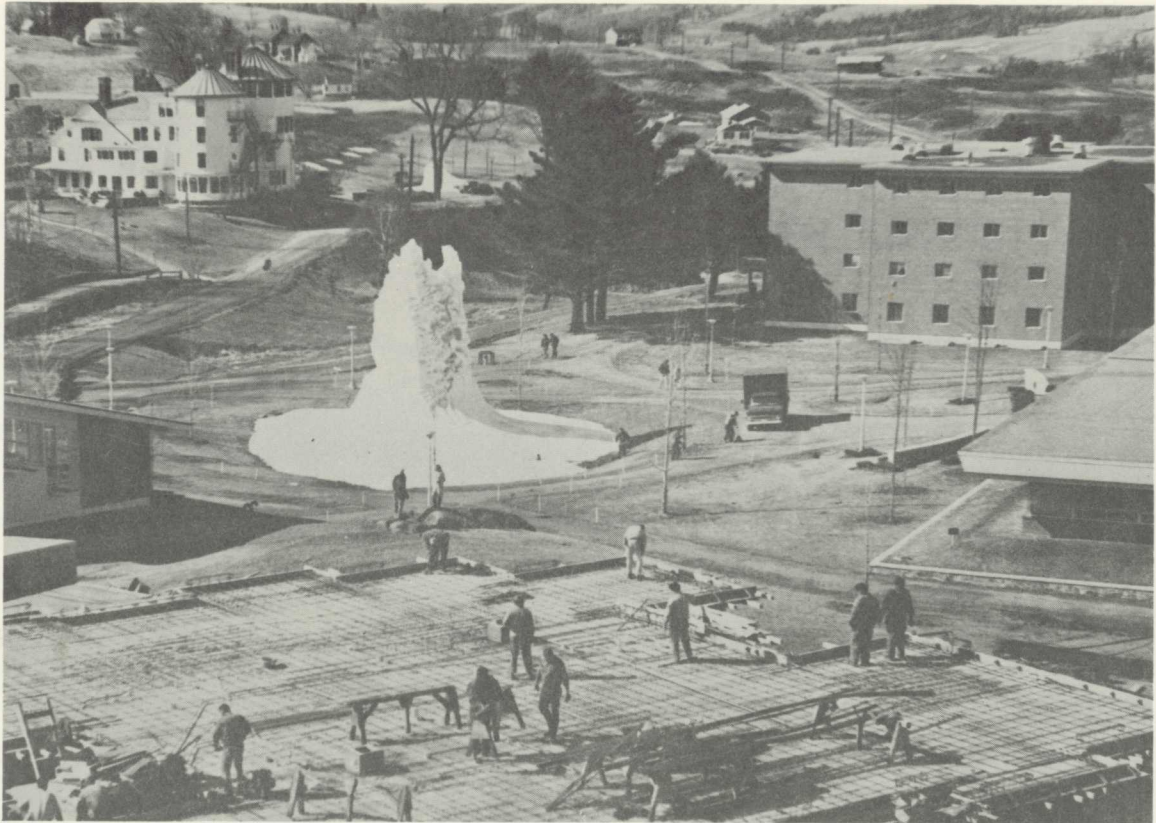

1966

The Samuel Reed Hall Library is the focal point of the new part of the campus and was completed in 1965-1966. Designed with an ultimate capacity of 50,000 volumes, it presently houses a large lecture hall and six other classrooms, as well as the offices of the Social Science Department. Its classroom facilities as the book collection grows.

New Construction. Under construction are two new residence halls with a total capacity of 264 students. A center for the performing arts, a gymnasium, and additional laboratory and classroom space are in the planning stage. Construction of these buildings was scheduled to start in the spring of 1967, with the buildings available for use in 1968-69.

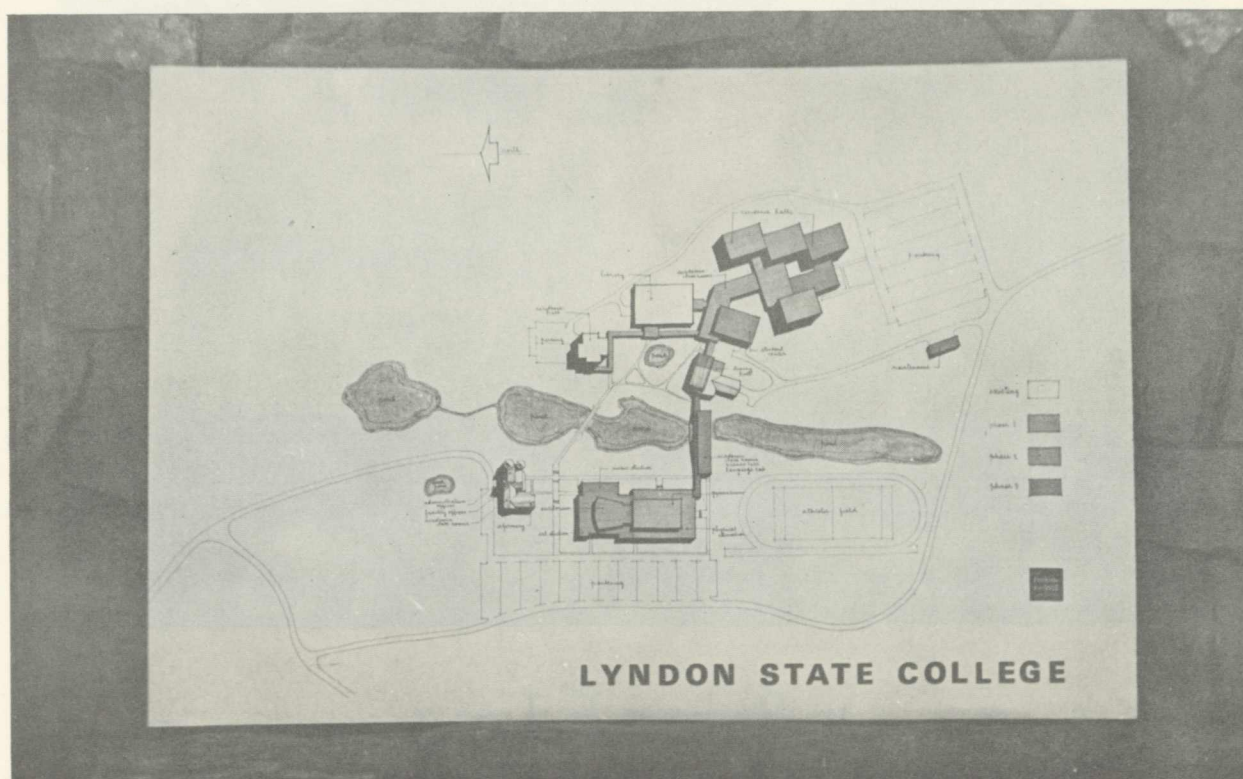

1967

Arnold, Bayley, Rogers, and Poland Residence Halls, named for four men prominent in the history of the "Northeast Kingdom" of Vermont, form part of a new residence complex opened in 1967 for 242 students. Rooms are arranged in eleven-student suites, with single, double, and triple rooms, sitting room, kitchenette, and toilet facilities in each. The buildings are paired, with a common room and laundry serving each two units. A third pair of residence halls is planned for 1970.

President, Lyndon State College

President's Message to the Class of 1968

You are a good class and a long-suffering class. You have through your four years in the midst of changes which have not left untouched any significant part of this College. You have seen arise since 1964 an entirely new campus which is still burgeoning. You have undergone the academic in the introduction of a new and finer curriculum. Allow students have adopted a new and more sophisticated participating in the direction and administration of you have had a part in progress.

chaos can result — or new growth. It is the responsibility of your class of college graduates to make certain that true progress is the outcome. It is an awesome challenge, one for which we hope we have in some small way fitted you. You have our best wishes for success in the issues you will face.

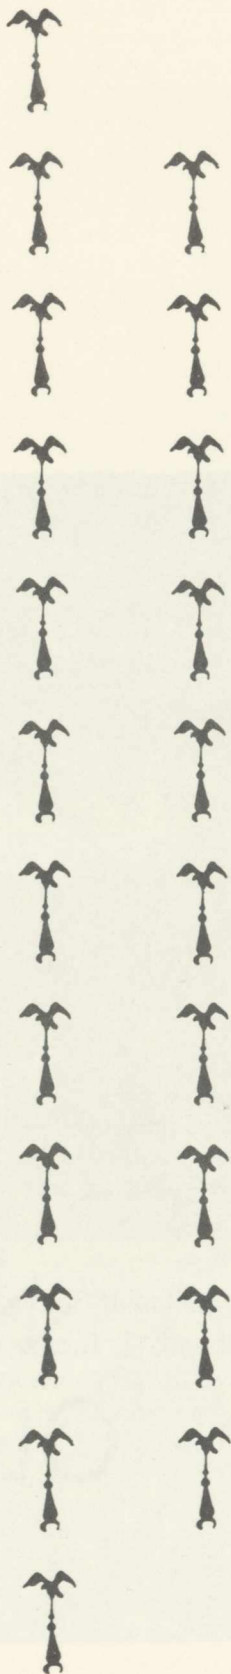

ROBERT E. LONG,
President

Dedication

Professor Esther S. Bussell

To a great teacher, an exacting taskmaster, and a good friend to many hundreds of Lyndon students over the years, to Professor Esther S. Bussell, this book is dedicated with admiration and affection upon her retirement from the Faculty of Lyndon State College.

ALMA MATER

Above a green and pleasant valley,
Beneath an azure northern sky
Fair Lyndon College bids us rally
To sing her praises high.

Lyndon! Alma Mater!
Hail to thee forever!
From every loyal son and daughter
Lyndon! Our own!

When the winter stars are shining
Beyond the mountain's highest rim,
Our songs of friendship, ever binding,
Shall rise thy fame to win.
